Sunday was a pleasant day, and the churches were largely attended.

The following officers were elected for the year beginning March I, 1888: President, Charles U. Williams; Vice-President, road or steamboat transportation to the what he sells is absolutely what it pur-ports to be. At the same time it abolishes the scalper, and, therefore, removes the possibility of lost or stelen tickets being sold to unsuspecting travellers. The infraction of this provision is a misdemeanor, and is punisha-ble by a fine not exceeding $500 and imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the jury. Having placed the authority to sell in the hands of the regularly-appointed agents, the act next requires the companies issuing the tickets to redeem the whole or any part or parts of the tickets so sold which the purchaser has not for any reason used. The redemption value is fixed at the difference between the price paid for the whole ticket and the cost of a ticket between the points for sale of railroad tickets in this State.

The ticket-broker gives the public the as fair an arrangement as could be made.
